(Edition PM2547 25th Nov 2025)

Prayer Matters is published by Fiona Emery fionae@servingtogether.com.au every Tuesday. Please direct all prayer requests to her by noon on Monday.

Ian & Leann Buckley, (Nepal, DPG Day 3)

A team of eight are coming to Dhulikhel from the 5th to 20th of December doing various training. Much preparations to be done. PTL the Tata has been fixed with extensive front end work etc. and has been paid for. Still having trouble with the landlord of the VTC building; pray that it can be resolved. We are still waiting for our business visas due to buildings being destroyed in recent protests.

Christina Eglinton, (SA, DPG Day 7)

Pray for the residential kids who have now been released for Christmas leave. Pray that they would be kept safe during these long holidays & that they would avoid mischief & temptations. Pray for God to provide 2 new teachers for 2026 at our committee meeting next Friday. Pray for teachers with the right theology & a good testimony before God. I'd appreciate prayer for myself, as my energy levels have been very low lately (a common problem for those with Parkinsons Disease). Pray that I'd get on top of this & get more sleep.

Rich & Anne Hoyt, (USA, DPG Day 11)

Due to recent ill health Anne will not be at TEAM Chad's annual conference which starts this Sunday. Please pray that God will bless, encourage and guide our team in Chad as they meet for conference from Nov 30 to Dec 5, and that we can bring team members in "virtually" from around the world to join the conference. Please pray for Anne's complete recovery and pray with us for God's will and clear leading for a potential mid-January trip to Chad for Anne - we are adjusting her ticket dates with this idea in mind. Prayer is appreciated for our "satellite" conference in Virginia next week, for sweet fellowship and encouragement with our missionaries who are unable to return to Chad due to the visa situation.

Jason & Kim Job, (QLD, DPG Day 12)

Pray for Jason as he travels to Timor-Leste on Monday 24th November for two weeks to help carry out scheduled maintenance on the planes based there. Pray for safety as they travel and efficient work on the aircraft. Pray for Kim and Sam while Jason is away and they enter the end of year busyness with school assignments and assessments.

Karl & Elaine Mosby, (QLD, DPG Day 18)

Our Chinese translator is working with us to complete the final edit of The Captive, both in Simplified and Traditional script. These can then be used in Mainland China as well as Taiwan and HongKong. We are also coming to the end of the Farsi and Portuguese translation of The Captive. The last part of the hill we climb is always the steepest and we do value your prayer as we get these much-needed resources over the finish line and these books in print, and one more tool to be used for discipleship. Elaine recently underwent spinal surgery and will return to see the Specialist for a follow-up appointment on Dec 10th.

Nara, (Restricted Access, DPG Day 19)

Continue to pray for Nara to make successful business connections in order for her to legitimately stay in the country. She is quite discouraged and not sure how much longer she has there if things don't change. Pray she know God's guidance, direction and peace as she aims to faithfully fulfill her contract.

Tess, (Restricted Access, DPG Day 25)

Since I have been in Australia about 60% of the foreigners attending the Turkish church and working among the Turkic speaking community, have moved on. As a result, I will be taking up some additional roles in the Turkish church, with the women's groups and the children's ministry. I will also be taking on a new role in the Kurdish school. The family that runs the school will be returning to Australia for 9 months and in their absence, as of January 13th, I will be taking on the Managing Director role of the school. This is a very big responsibility, and I would really appreciate your prayers in this. Please also be praying for new staff to come onboard, especially some new Turkish speakers.
